CLARICE DOMBECK

Clarice Dombeck is an emerging urban planner, urban farmer, creative placemaker, and community organizer. Her background in Black Studies and Sociology profoundly informs her work in a way that centers Black people's history, experiences, knowledge, and expertise. She is currently pursuing a Master of Science in Urban Studies and hopes the knowledge and skills she acquires will help lead to transformative justice in housing, mobility, and the environment for North Omaha communities.

GREG PASKACH

Greg Paskach is the Housing Manager with the City of Omaha's Planning Department. He is the administrator for several federally funded housing programs and is leading the implementation of Omaha's Housing Affordability Action Plan. Prior to working for the city, Greg worked as the Director of Fixed Assets for a national nonprofit organization where he focused on corporate real estate management including affordable housing development and management.

CHARLIE WESCHE

Charlie Wesche serves as Chief of Staff & Real Estate Director at NeighborWorks Lincoln. He has over 15 years of experience in residential construction and affordable housing development having built or rehabilitated hundreds of homes for Lincoln's low to moderate-income residents. He played a key role in developing the Lincoln Community Land Trust and oversees all aspects of the trust's operations while advocating for affordable housing and the strengthening of neighborhoods.
